I w a N u r s e r y

The cold in the morning and evening has deepened more recently. Some of the children also had a runny nose and cough. I want to be careful about the change in the physical condition of each child.

Last month, we enjoyed various events such as Sweet Potato Digging, autumn excursion, and cooking.

We cooked and ate sweet potatoes that I dug up with my own hands. The children were very interested in the experiences that they couldn't do easily. I'm sure it tasted special.

The destination of this year's excursion was the Science Museum. We went there last year too, but this time I participated in a science show. Some of the children came out in front and participated in the show and enjoyed it very much. Thank you very much for preparing a lunch box with a lot of love from the early morning.

Acorn picking up

We went for a walk and picked up a lot of our favorite acorns with children. Children enjoyed and collected while noticing the difference in shape and color. We collected acorns, beautiful colored leaves, acorn hats and were very happy.

"Let's make a Koma with this!" "Let's check which acorns in the picture book! The content of the topic is also firm. "We get used to nature through manufacturing and play.

Let's play store!

Children Are Doing Their Best To prepare For The Shop.

Children Who Seem Sexcited to Get a Wallet made using an empty box And Say, "I Want to Use It Quickly." I Think That I Will Enjoy the Shop Shop Play Not Only on the Day of the event but also in the usual activity.

This year we will open yatai village. Chocolate bananas and snacks are sold at five different stalls.

I'm sure the children would say, "This has happened!" I think it will be filled with things I want to talk about. Listen to a lot of stories.

Now, dodge ball is booming in the zougumi. "Can we play outside today?" "I want to do dodge ball!" When they went out to the garden, they took the ball and lined up immediately. Sometimes there are conflicts of opinion over the ball and rules, but by communicating our thoughts, we can think about the other person's feelings. You can see a lot of people taking good care of their friends, such as giving away the ball or thinking about the child who fell down. Through group play, students will acquire the ability to interact with people.
